

Paid Residency Request Form

September – December 2008

There are a limited number of residency spaces at Varuna for Paying Residencies (Monday to Monday) to work in a self-directed manner on a project. There is no mentorship or creative support offered other than that of working within a community of writers. Please note: Vacancies in the latter half of the year are very rare.

We make offerings of vacancies to both the general public and Varuna Alumni. There are also cancellations from time to time that may need to be filled at short notice. In either case, we will notify those on our Waiting List for Paid Residencies.

The cost of a paid residency is $790 per week.

To make a request for a paid residency, and be placed on the Waiting List, please complete the Paid Residency Request form below and return – either by fax, email or post. You will then be informed of any vacancies that come up.
